

- 1. The first part of the text describes the general situation of the country. The author mentions that the country is a developing one and that it has a long history. (The author also mentions that the country is a member of the United Nations.)
- 2. The second part of the text describes the economic situation of the country. The author mentions that the country has a growing economy and that it is a member of the World Trade Organization. (The author also mentions that the country is a member of the World Bank.)
- 3. The third part of the text describes the social situation of the country. The author mentions that the country has a high literacy rate and that it has a growing middle class. (The author also mentions that the country has a growing service sector.)
- 4. The fourth part of the text describes the environmental situation of the country. The author mentions that the country has a growing awareness of environmental issues and that it is a member of the United Nations Environment Programme. (The author also mentions that the country has a growing renewable energy sector.)
- 5. The fifth part of the text describes the political situation of the country. The author mentions that the country has a growing democracy and that it is a member of the United Nations Human Rights Council. (The author also mentions that the country has a growing civil society.)
- 6. The sixth part of the text describes the cultural situation of the country. The author mentions that the country has a rich cultural heritage and that it is a member of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. (The author also mentions that the country has a growing tourism industry.)
- 7. The seventh part of the text describes the future of the country. The author mentions that the country has a bright future and that it is a member of the United Nations Development Programme. (The author also mentions that the country has a growing population.)

Questions for Oral Answers

1. What is the main topic of the text? (The main topic of the text is the general situation of the country.)
2. What are the main points of the text? (The main points of the text are the general situation of the country, the economic situation, the social situation, the environmental situation, the political situation, the cultural situation, and the future of the country.)
3. What are the main arguments of the text? (The main arguments of the text are that the country is a developing one, that it has a growing economy, that it has a high literacy rate, that it has a growing middle class, that it has a growing awareness of environmental issues, that it has a growing democracy, that it has a rich cultural heritage, and that it has a bright future.)
4. What are the main facts of the text? (The main facts of the text are that the country is a member of the United Nations, the World Trade Organization, the World Bank, the United Nations Environment Programme, the United Nations Human Rights Council, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, and the United Nations Development Programme.)
5. What are the main opinions of the author? (The main opinions of the author are that the country is a developing one, that it has a growing economy, that it has a high literacy rate, that it has a growing middle class, that it has a growing awareness of environmental issues, that it has a growing democracy, that it has a rich cultural heritage, and that it has a bright future.)
6. What are the main conclusions of the text? (The main conclusions of the text are that the country is a developing one, that it has a growing economy, that it has a high literacy rate, that it has a growing middle class, that it has a growing awareness of environmental issues, that it has a growing democracy, that it has a rich cultural heritage, and that it has a bright future.)
7. What are the main implications of the text? (The main implications of the text are that the country is a developing one, that it has a growing economy, that it has a high literacy rate, that it has a growing middle class, that it has a growing awareness of environmental issues, that it has a growing democracy, that it has a rich cultural heritage, and that it has a bright future.)
8. What are the main challenges of the text? (The main challenges of the text are that the country is a developing one, that it has a growing economy, that it has a high literacy rate, that it has a growing middle class, that it has a growing awareness of environmental issues, that it has a growing democracy, that it has a rich cultural heritage, and that it has a bright future.)
9. What are the main opportunities of the text? (The main opportunities of the text are that the country is a developing one, that it has a growing economy, that it has a high literacy rate, that it has a growing middle class, that it has a growing awareness of environmental issues, that it has a growing democracy, that it has a rich cultural heritage, and that it has a bright future.)

