

[illegible]

- 1. The first part of the text (lines 1-10) describes the situation of the country in 1945. The country was in a state of chaos and the population was suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 2. The second part of the text (lines 11-20) describes the situation of the country in 1946. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 3. The third part of the text (lines 21-30) describes the situation of the country in 1947. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 4. The fourth part of the text (lines 31-40) describes the situation of the country in 1948. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 5. The fifth part of the text (lines 41-50) describes the situation of the country in 1949. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 6. The sixth part of the text (lines 51-60) describes the situation of the country in 1950. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 7. The seventh part of the text (lines 61-70) describes the situation of the country in 1951. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 8. The eighth part of the text (lines 71-80) describes the situation of the country in 1952. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 9. The ninth part of the text (lines 81-90) describes the situation of the country in 1953. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 10. The tenth part of the text (lines 91-100) describes the situation of the country in 1954. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 11. The eleventh part of the text (lines 101-110) describes the situation of the country in 1955. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 12. The twelfth part of the text (lines 111-120) describes the situation of the country in 1956. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 13. The thirteenth part of the text (lines 121-130) describes the situation of the country in 1957. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 14. The fourteenth part of the text (lines 131-140) describes the situation of the country in 1958. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 15. The fifteenth part of the text (lines 141-150) describes the situation of the country in 1959. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 16. The sixteenth part of the text (lines 151-160) describes the situation of the country in 1960. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 17. The seventeenth part of the text (lines 161-170) describes the situation of the country in 1961. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 18. The eighteenth part of the text (lines 171-180) describes the situation of the country in 1962. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 19. The nineteenth part of the text (lines 181-190) describes the situation of the country in 1963. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.
- 20. The twentieth part of the text (lines 191-200) describes the situation of the country in 1964. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.

21. The twenty-first part of the text (lines 201-210) describes the situation of the country in 1965. The country was still in a state of chaos and the population was still suffering from poverty and hunger.

Questions for Oral Answers